WHAT'S YOUR FANDOM?

Sherlock, Stranger Things, The Flash - these are a few of our favorite shows! While you’re waiting for the next episode or movie of your fandom - why not read these books? Beware: (mild) spoilers ahead.

The Reluctant Assassin by Eoin Colfer - Victorian boy time travels to modern-day London to stop his evil boss from changing history (series)
Every Day by David Levithan - Every morning A wakes up in a new body and new life
The Wells Bequest by Polly Shulman - Two teens use H.G. Wells’s time machine
Tempest by Julie Cross - Jackson travels back in time after his girlfriend is shot
Ruby Red by Kerstin Gier - Gwyneth has a time travel gene and she uses it to travel through historical London (the Doctor’s favorite destination) (series)
Passenger by Alexandra Bracken - a violin prodigy who has lost everything wakes up on a ship in another time period (series)
The Girl from Everywhere by Heidi Heilig - travel from modern-day NYC, to 19th-century Hawaii (series)
23 Minutes by Vivian Vande Velde - Zoe can jump back in time - but she might make things worse in the future
The Here and Now by Ann Brashares - Prenna is an immigrant from the future
All Our Yesterdays by Cristin Terrell - time travel to prevent death and disaster
5th Wave by Rick Yancey - surviving an alien invasion of Earth (series)
Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy by Douglas Adams - Earth is demolished, so Arthur hitchhikes through space

Paper Girls by Brian K. Vaughan and Cliff Chiang - 80s, kids, spooky - check, check, check (series)
Coraline by Neil Gaiman - Coraline meets her eerie “other mother”
A Monster Calls by Patrick Ness - Thirteen-year-old Conor awakens one night to find a monster outside his bedroom window
Lumberjanes by Noelle Stevenson, et. al. - five best pals are determined to have an awesome summer and they’re not gonna let any insane quest or an array of supernatural monsters get in their way (series)
The Darkest Minds by Alexandra Bracken - Ruby breaks out of a government-run “rehabilitation camp” for teens who have dangerous powers
Bone Gap by Laura Ruby - Bone Gap, Illinois is a little town that has gaps where one can fall into and never find their way out
This Savage Song by Victoria Schwab - Katie’s father is trying to kill the monsters and August is a monster with the gift of sucking ones soul
A Thousand Pieces of You by Claudia Gray - Marguerite must leap into different dimensions and versions of herself to catch her father’s killer and avenge his murder
Pivot Point by Kasie West - As a Seachere, a special type of clairvoyant, whenever Addie is faced with a choice, she is able to look into the future and see both outcomes
No True Echo by Gareth P. Jones - time travel is a dangerous business, and Eddie will learn more than he wants to know about his long-dead mother.
The Rest of Us Just Live Here by Patrick Ness - the best friend of a kid with superhuman qualities endeavors to have a life of his own
Dull Boy by Sarah Cross - a teenage boy tries to hide his frightening superpowers
The Gauntlet by Eoin Colfer - Tony Stark is challenged by an old enemy who assassinates the summit’s ministers and deprives Stark of his Iron Man resources.
Zeroes by Scott Westerfeld - teens have superhuman abilities that give them interesting but not heroic lives
Steelheart by Brandon Sanderson - David watched as his father was killed by an Epic, a human with superhuman powers, now he is trying to fight the Epics’ tyranny.
Hero by Mike Lupica - Zach learns he has the same powers as his father
Black Widow: Forever Red by Margaret Stohl - Black Widow, agent of S.H.I.E.L.D, rescues a young girl from Ivan, the man who once trained her as an assassin.

The Demon Trapper’s Daughter by Jana Oliver - Riley’s father is killed by a demon.
Evil Librarian by Michelle Knudsen - The new school librarian might be totally crush-worthy, but he also might be a demon
Halo by Alexandra Adornetto - The youngest of three angels sent to protect a town, Bethany enrolls in high school and falls in love. (series)
The Diviners by Libba Bray - In 1926 NYC, small-town Evie tries to solve occult murders.
Full Tilt by Neal Shusterman - Blake goes to a mysterious, invitation-only carnival where he is challenged by the beautiful Cassandra.
Unbreakable by Kami Garcia - Kennedy discovers her mother was part of a secret society and is drawn into a world of spirits and demons.

The Princess, the Scoundrel and the Farm Boy: An Original Retelling of Stars by Alexandra Bracken - the original movies (IV, V and VI) all get retold by a trilogy of great authors: Bracken, Tom Angleberger and Adam Gidwitz
Ender’s Game by Orson Scott Card - An alien species is poised for a final assault on Earth. The survival of humanity depends on a military genius who can defeat the aliens and also happens to be a child (series)
Illuminae by Amie Kaufman and Jay Kristoff - two rival megacorporations are at war over a planet that’s an ice-covered speck at the edge of the universe (series)
Across the Universe by Beth Revis - a cryogenically frozen passenger on a spaceship, wakes up to discover that someone may have tried to murder her.
The 100 by Kass Morgan - 100 juvenile delinquents are sent on a mission to recolonize Earth.
Salvage by Alexandra Duncan - Ava is a spaceship captain’s daughter, but it doesn’t mean she can read or write or even understand the forces of gravity.
William Shakespeare’s Star Wars: Verily a New Hope by Ian Doescher - a retelling in the style of Shakespeare.
Carve the Mark by Veronica Roth - features “the current” which sounds a lot like the Force.